Festivals - A pleasant break from dull routine of life".

Festivals are a part of life. It's the time where people around the world get together and have fun. They are obviously celebrated with joy and full zest.

The time spent at festival is a lot different from our daily routine. In our daily routine we keep following the same regular things we do everyday. In our daily routine we get up early in the morning, go to school, study at school, come back, <sup>get</sup> ready for academy, then come back, have time for friends and family and then go to bed.

The same routine we follow makes us tired and makes ourselves frustrated and boring. Every year, festivals come and are celebrated with full zest and joy.

We celebrate Eid-ul-Fitr with full enthusiasm. It is a festival

(Page 2/3) which comes after the holy month of Ramadan. On this Eid, muslims all of the world celebrate it with our families. People visit each other houses, give money, wear new clothes, apply hennas and take pictures. It is the time of the year when happiness is only there and no negative negativity.

Then, after few months, Eid-ul-Adha comes. We celebrate this festival in the remembrance of Hazrat Ibrahim. Muslims sacrifice cows, sheep, goats. This festival is also celebrated around the world.

Festivals gives a break from our everyday life. They give us the feeling of happiness, joy, calmness, relaxation etc. It gives us sometime from our everyday life.

If we follow the same routine for several days, then we become frustrated, and tired. We want some relaxation and joy from our everyday life. Festivals make

There are many other festivals too which everybody celebrates like Christmas, hdi, Easter etc. People celebrate these festivals and many more with their friends and family.

Festivals are necessary as they make a connection between us and our family and friends. It changes our everyday boring life into excitement, relaxation, joy and calmness.

We get importance of our traditions as festivals inform us about our culture, customs, aptitudes and religion.

"Festivals are surely a pleasant break from dull routine life."

It gives us break from our boring life. Festivals gives us relief and makes us fresh and then our heart is filled with goodness. and then our life is started again
