2. Both SSC and HSSC Levels Examinations of all the subjects mentioned above will continue to be Students Learning Outcomes (SLOs) based instead of Textbooks based. Accordingly Question Papers will be based on the SLOs given in the curricula of each of these subjects instead of textbooks. All the curricula/SLOs of these subjects will be uploaded shortly on FBISE website www.fbise.edu.pk for instructional/assessment guidelines along with Model Question Papers and other necessary allied material.

3. A suggested list of books of different publishers as reference/reading material which is not prescriptive in nature is being given hereunder for each subject along with other details. The institutions are, however, free to rely on any other valid and reliable instructional/reference material to fulfil the instructional requirements of the SLOs of these subjects. Institutions may further shape their instructional and assessment practices around the SLOs and teaching resources/reference material of these subjects for preparing their students. The exploration of SLOs particularly in the context of their cognitive domains and pedagogical requirements will help students to discover new abilities, develop critical thinking and enrich their problem solving skills together with developing curiosity and lasting passion for learning.
